

Penguin Chick

1	The mother and the father sing a song to each other so that when the mother comes back she can find him.
2	The father penguin watches the egg and keeps it warm until the mother penguin comes back.
3	The father penguins all huddle up to keep each other warm.
4	After the baby chick has been in the egg for sometime, it pecks and pecks its way out of the egg.
5	After the mother penguin comes back she “coughs up” some of the fish she ate to feed the chick.
6	After the mother penguin gets back, the father takes off for the sea to hunt for food for himself and the chick.
7	The baby chick grows and in 5 months can swim and catch its own food.
8	In about 5 years the baby chick will find a mate and have a baby chick of its own.
